

The Basics

Qualifying Habitat partners purchase their home at cost and pay the purchase price back over a 30-year period with no interest. These monthly payments create a sustainable funding source and are recycled into helping build more homes for other families in need.

The homes built by Habitat partners and volunteers are new, affordable single family homes. They vary from 900 to 1400 square feet, depending on family size. All Habitat homes have central air conditioning and heat, as well as yards for the families to enjoy.

The first step to Habitat Homeownership is to determine if you meet the criteria set forth in this brochure. The homeownership process from start to finish, is approximately 12 to 18 months.

Become a Habitat Homeowner

This brochure provides you with the basic guidelines to qualify for Habitat's new construction program.

"Seeking to put God's love into action, Habitat for Humanity brings people together to build homes, communities and hope."

1. Need

Our ministry exists to serve those with a desire to become homeowners but who are unable to secure a traditional mortgage through a financial institution.

To qualify for this program, your current housing situation must be inadequate in some way; examples include if the condition of the residence is:

- Unsafe
- Unsanitary
- Overcrowded
- Unaffordable

2. Ability to Pay

Since qualified partners will be purchasing a home from Habitat, they must demonstrate an ability to pay a monthly mortgage. Applicants must have a minimum steady income, provide the previous two years of work history and show any other current debt obligations.

This information will be used to determine if Habitat payments will allow your family to meet all other expenses such as groceries, utilities, and other previous loan obligations that may exist.

Additionally, applicant income must fall within established guidelines. These are based on percentages of federal poverty guidelines, using the current HUD Median Income guidelines.

3. Willingness to Participate as a Partner with Habitat

Upon acceptance into Habitat's program based on your Need and Ability to Pay, the time you commit before purchasing your new home is called "sweat equity." It will include serving at the Habitat office and ReStore, Homeowner Education courses, construction on Habitat build sites - including your future home - and other approved projects.

Two-parent households must complete 500 hours of sweat equity and one-parent households must complete 300 hours. Family and friends may help with up to 30% of these hours. When construction begins on your Habitat home, at least 100 hours of your sweat equity must go towards construction.

Meeting this criteria also means you are willing to save $3,000 during your time in the program for closing costs.

We are pledged to the letter and spirit of U.S. policy for the achievement of equal housing opportunity throughout the nation. We encourage and support an affirmative advertising and marketing program in which there are no barriers to obtaining housing because of race, color, religion, sex, handicap, familial status, or national origin.
